

ESA-ISEAD

Licensing & Training Grant

Supporting Indigenous Electricians on the Path to Becoming a Master Electrician and Licensed Electrical Contractor in Ontario

Advance Your Career. Lead in Your Community.

Become a Master Electrician (ME) and/or Licensed Electrical Contractor (LEC) in Ontario. The Electrical Safety Authority (ESA) and Indigenous Skills, Employment, Apprenticeship, and Development (ISEAD) are partnering to support Indigenous journeyman electricians ready to take the next step in their careers.

Grant Includes

- Step-by-step support navigating ESA licensing
- ESA Training Solutions Online Pre-Master Electrician Course
- Master Electrician (ME) Exam fee
- First-year licence fees

Who Can Apply?

Indigenous (First Nations, Métis, Inuit) journeyman electricians with:

- ✓ A valid Certificate of Qualification
- ✓ At least 3 years of trade experience
- ✓ Intent to pursue the ME licence

Optional – Interest in running an electrical contracting business

Why Become a Master Electrician (ME)?

- Take on a leadership role in the electrical industry in Ontario
- Strengthen community safety and consumer protection
- Qualify to become a Designated Master Electrician (DME) for a Licensed Electrical Contractor (LEC), or to open your own Electrical Contracting business

Why Become a Licensed Electrical Contractor (LEC)?

- Start and operate your own electrical business in Ontario
- Hire employees and support Ontario's electrification

APPLY THROUGH ISEAD

Start your ESA licensing journey. Apply here, or connect with ISEAD at info@isead.ca for more information.

